Wow! If you were not at the Undergraduate Research Workshop at Elon last week, you missed a great event. Thanks, Elon organizers, for an outstanding workshop! If you could not make it to the workshop (I know many had conflicting activities), I hope you will be able to join us next time.

RECENT EVENTS

* CANCAS Fall Undergraduate Workshop was held at Elon University on Nov. 5, 2005

  The workshop was a great success! We had stimulating presentations, good food, and many opportunities to get to know students and faculty from other institutions. At the workshop, we had 99 participants that represented 14 institutions from across the state. I hope your institution will be represented at the next workshop.

  I will be compiling a workshop CD and would be glad to send one or two copies to each institution that attended. Although I have contact information for current members (see list below) I do not have addresses for all of the attendees, so send me your name and mailing address if you would like a copy. I hope to have the CD out shortly after Thanksgiving break.
